It's great to have the iPosters™ available. It increases exposure for your research and opportunities for attendees to gain knowledge without physically walking by each poster.

The poster enhancement allowed me to display my work with greater clarity.

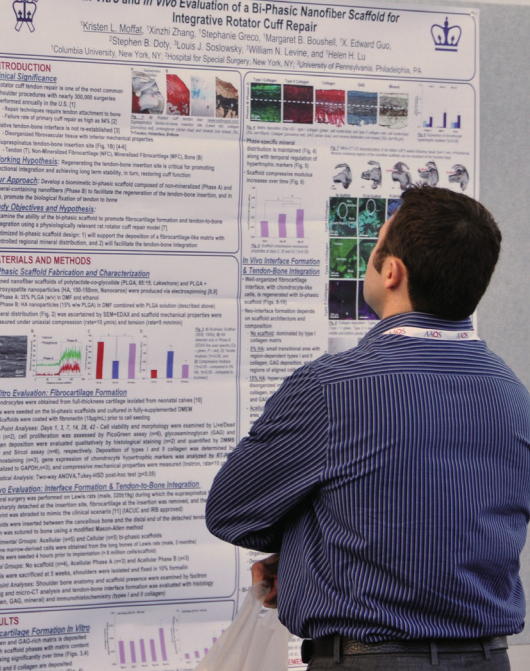

– Mark A. Frankle , MD

The AEEF made a significant innovation to the 2012 AAOS Annual Meeting in San Francisco. The Poster Enhancement Project provided access to more than 270 iPosters™ online, 40 of which featured audio narration and explanation. Continuing with the 2013 AAOS Annual Meeting in Chicago, you can listen as the presenter's commentary guides you through the research and findings—and interact by sharing your thoughts, comments, and questions via smart phone, tablet, or computer. Extend your Annual Meeting experience throughout the year when you visit these enhanced poster exhibits online at <http://aaos.posterview.com>.

The AEEF is funding a pilot multi-component CME course concept that will enrich your learning with high-engagement events without the hassle of travel or time spent away from your practice or family. Course elements are scheduled over 8-9 weeks and incorporate webinars, video and multimedia presentations, online small group discussions, self-assessment activities, and social media features that deliver a convenient and interactive learning experience. Visit www.aaos.org/courses for more information.
